

As Christianity spread throughout the Roman Empire by the third and fourth centuries CE, religious morality started to appear in the European writings.

Classical Greek and Roman literature

Ancient Greek and Roman literature still has a large readership today.

(1) "The Illiad" (8th century BCE)
by Homer.

(2) "The Odyssey" (8th century BCE)
by Homer.

(3) "Medea" (431 BCE) Euripides

(4) "Metamorphoses" (8th century)
by Ovid.

To be continued;
Prof. Kamaaditya Singh
Deptt. English
Sher Shah College, Son.